

Hazel Marie Lindgren

Wife of Gilmore Lindgren and mother of Richard, Theodore, Carleton Senior, and Jon Lindgren

Hazel Lindgren was born in Cerro Gordo county Iowa, probably near Plymouth to Harry and Mary Hill on November 27, 1907. She was the third child.

She graduated from Plymouth high school. She went to Upper Iowa University for two years, and then one summer at Iowa State Teachers College (now the University of Northern Iowa). She taught school in her home town of Plymouth. Gilmore Lindgren was teaching agriculture there and they met. They were married in 1930 in the Methodist church, and moved to Forest City, Iowa. Gilmore started teaching school there, but had to change jobs because of the depression. Richard, Theodore, and Carleton were born there.

They moved to a farm near Lanyon for one year, and then rented a farm 20 miles west for four years. Jon was born in Lake City while they were there.

They moved to the home farm at Lanyon in 1941, and later bought the farm from Frank.

Hazel was active in the Covenant church and was president of the Ladies aid. She like to paint pictures for a hobby.

After Gilmore died, she moved to a retirement condo in Ames. She moved to the nursing home after a few years, and a few days later had a hip fracture. She died May 30, 1999. All four sons were in Ames at the time.

Her ancestors were from northern Europe and the British Isles. Going up the female side, her grandmother was from Northern Ireland. Some were from near Germany and other parts of the British Isles and northern Ireland.
